Required Course Materials

Brzycki, M. (2018). A practical approach to strength and conditioning (5th ed.). Terre Haute, Indiana: Wish Publishing; ISBN-13: 978-0983575436

Course Description

The purpose of this course is to provide you with the scientific basis of the principles of strength and conditioning using evidence-based material that will enable you to make informed decisions about your health and fitness and apply those concepts to design comprehensive strength and fitness programs for you and diverse populations.

This course partially fulfills the Exercise Science requirement/elective.

This course partially fulfills the Sport Management requirement/elective.

Course Learning Objectives

By the conclusion of this course, you'll:

- understand basic anatomy and muscular function
- explain the dynamics of the three energy systems and how the systems relate to various types of conditioning
- examine the role that genetics plays in the response to strength training
- know approximately 100 different exercises with free weights, machines and manual resistance, including the muscles strengthened and proper technique
- describe various principles of strength and conditioning and apply those concepts in designing programs for diverse populations
- gain a basic understanding of concepts and applications of flexibility training
- recognize the three forms of conditioning (aerobic, anaerobic and metabolic training) and the associated techniques that relate to improving performance
- identify basic concepts in nutrition, including the six nutrients, the five food groups, food labels, caloric contributions, caloric needs and pre-/post-activity foods/fuels
- explain the dynamics of weight management and tips for weight gain/loss/maintenance
- know the history and the adverse effects of steroids

Grading Policy

- This course uses a points-based system to calculate grades. The total number of points in this course is 500. Points are earned from three in-person exams.
- If you do not complete an exam as scheduled, 20% of the maximum points for the exam will be deducted from your score unless you communicate with me BEFORE the date of the exam and receive written approval of an extension. Specifically, 30 points will be deducted from Exams 1 and 2 (which are worth 150 points each) and 40 points will be deducted from Exam 3 (which is worth 200 points).
- If you do not complete an exam as scheduled, you must contact me within 48 hours of the date and time of the exam. If not, you'll receive 0 points for the exam.
- Concerns about a graded exam must be brought to me within seven days of receiving the grade. Exam grades are finalized after this seven-day period.
- Grades on Canvas will be updated regularly; if you notice any discrepancies or have any questions, please do not wait until the end of the semester – let me know right away.
- There are no "extra-credit" assignments in this course.
- Final grades are not negotiable.

Letter Grade	Percent	Points Needed
A	90.0-100	450 to 500
B+	85.0-89.9	425 to 449
B	80.0-84.9	400 to 424

Course Policies and Procedures

Academic Integrity

You're responsible for becoming familiar with the definitions, procedures and sanctions outlined in Rutgers University Academic Integrity Policy before submitting any assignment or exam. The policy can be found at: <http://nbacademicintegrity.rutgers.edu/>

You should conduct yourself with the highest standards of academic honesty. Examples of academic dishonesty include: copying others' written work, not citing sources, and submitting the same assignments/papers multiple times in different courses. All incidences of questionable academic integrity are a serious matter and may result in a no grade (0.0) for the assignment or course. Academic dishonesty will not be tolerated and will be treated in accordance with Rutgers University Academic Integrity Policy.

Remember the Rutgers Honor Pledge: "On my honor, I have neither received nor given any unauthorized assistance on this examination (assignment)."

Note that all of the course materials – including the syllabus, lecture slides (PowerPoints), lecture recordings and exams – are the intellectual property of the instructor. As a result, you're prohibited from copying or posting any of these course materials online or otherwise distributing course materials without my explicit permission. This includes "tutoring" websites such as Chegg and CourseHero as well as group messaging website/apps such as GroupMe. Any incidents in which you post course materials online or anywhere else will be reported to the Office of Student Conduct as an Academic Integrity Violation.

Expectations

- Complete all readings and assignments on time.
- Actively participate in all class activities.
- Follow the honor code when completing all exams.
- Ask questions to enhance understanding of the material.
- Communicate with me if you have questions pertaining to the material or the course.

- Check your email and Canvas announcements regularly to stay informed about course updates.

Email Etiquette

When emailing me, please use your Rutgers email address and identify yourself by full name and course number. You're expected to place the course number followed by the subject in the subject line, use appropriate email etiquette and maintain reasonable expectations for my responses. I will try respond to your emails within two business days.

Plagiarism

By enrolling in this course, you're indicating implicitly that you have read, understood and accepted Rutgers University's policies and procedures regarding academic integrity and dishonesty. Plagiarism and cheating will not be tolerated and all University policies apply. Specifically, if plagiarism or cheating is suspected, you'll be asked to meet with me. If I conclude that an instance of plagiarism or cheating has occurred, you'll be subject to an appropriate sanction or penalty outlined in Rutgers University Academic Integrity Policy.

Please note that plagiarism is using the ideas or writings of another as one's own. It varies in degree and severity. The most severe is the use of another's entire paper word-for-word. Less severe is the use of another's sentence, paragraph or ideas without giving credit to that individual (i.e., without providing a reference).

Make-up Policy

No make-up exams or extensions will be offered for missed exams except in one of the following situations, provided that I'm notified at least 24 hours before the date and time of the exam:

- Athletic or other Rutgers sponsored trips: Travel dates and times accompanied by a signed memo from the group's advisor/coach must be presented to me prior to travel dates.
- Religious observances.
- Extenuating circumstances: This includes (but is not limited to) family emergencies, severe illnesses, accidents, etc. It will be my prerogative whether or not the student will be allowed to take a make-up exam or receive an extension.

Diversity & Inclusion

The Department of Kinesiology and Health supports an inclusive learning environment wherein diversity and authenticity are valued. We are committed to creating a culture of equality that respects the diverse voices of our students, faculty and staff. We will continuously strive to create a curriculum and academic environment to reflect the community we serve and drive innovation, social responsibility and excellence. Our diversity in thought, skill and academic discipline is a resource and strength which stands to benefit the whole and positively contribute to University and global reach.

Rutgers University welcomes students with disabilities into all of the University's educational programs. In order to receive consideration for reasonable accommodations, a student with a disability must contact the appropriate disability services office at the campus where you are officially enrolled, participate in an intake interview, and provide documentation: <https://ods.rutgers.edu/students/documentation-guidelines>. If the documentation supports your request for reasonable accommodations, your campus's disability services office will provide you with a Letter of Accommodations. Please share this letter with your instructors and discuss the accommodations with them as early in your courses as possible. To begin this process, please complete the Registration form on the ODS web site at: <https://webapps.rutgers.edu/student-ods/forms/registration>.
